County Surveyor Neuman was instructed to repair the damage done at the cost of the contractors.

E. T. McGettigan, representing the Peninsula Industrial Board, appeared before the supervisors and asked for an appropriation of $800 for the purpose of preparing 50,000 maps to be used for advertising the county and which would show the various county roads and highways. Mr. McGettigan stated that he had taken up the matter of getting up these maps with the San Mateo county Fair Commissioners, but had not been able to get their assistance. After considerable discussion it was ordered, upon motion of MacBain, seconded by Casey, that the Commissioners be invited to be present at the next meeting of the supervisors and discuss the plans for the publication of the maps.

Attorney Reddington of Hillsborough appeared before the board and asked that $1800 be refunded to the residents of Hillsborough on account of taxes paid by them in 1912 for the redemption of the old San Mateo school bonds. District Attorney Swart recommended that the claim be allowed and it was ordered by motion of Brown, seconded by MacBain.

Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud addressed the board in reference to the San Mateo county school children's day at the Exposition. Mr. Cloud stated that so far 3405 children had signified their intentions of attending the fair on that day. It was estimated that this would cost about $2500. Upon motion of Brown, seconded by Thompson, the board decided to stand the transportation of the children to the fair and the admission to the grounds.

The report of the superintendent of the county farm and hospital showed that during the month of February, fifty-five inmates were taken care of, of which number seven were discharged.

Newton Peck, the newly appointed county horticultural commissioner, submitted his report for the month of March. The report showed that during the month, he inspected 2496 trees, plants and shrubs coming into the State, of which number two were condemned as "contraband" importations, the stock having come from a district infested with "peach yellows" and "peach rosette."

The following named liquor dealers, having complied with the county ordinance and furnished the required bond, were granted licenses:

First township—John Mori, Rockaway; J. Murray, Colma; M. Verningo, Colma; Stephen McCue, Colma.

Third township—H. E. Hallett, Portola; Arthur C. Mathisen, Woodside.

Deputy Sheriff H. W. Lampkin appeared before the board in reference to certain urgent needs of the Sheriff's office, among which were the purchasing of a suitable automobile and a proper filing and finger printing system. The automobile would be used to convey injured persons to hospitals, transferring of prisoners and for urgent calls connected with the Sheriff's office.

After considerable discussion, regarding the kind of an automobile that should be purchased and as to whether it should be solely at the disposal of the Sheriff's office, no action was taken by the board.

A communication from Judge Seely in reference to the fatal injury to Michael Garrahy, who was struck by a train on March 20th, and the manner in which the unfortunate was hauled to the county hospital, and containing recommendations and suggestions for the more humane treatment of injured persons in the future, was ordered filed.

A communication from the San Mateo County Development Association, asking for the reappointment of a supervisor as a representative of the association was ordered filed.

The District Attorney presented an ordinance concerning and regulating class of vehicles allowed to pass over the highways of San Mateo county. The adoption of the ordinance was laid over until the next meeting.

E. J. White, the county expert, submitted his report on the condition of the books of the various county officers and also the condition of the county funds. The report showed that books were all in good shape, but that several of the officers were in need of extra help. The report drew the attention of the board to the fact that there were $180,000 of the county funds deposited in different banks since 1910 drawing interest at 2 percent. It was the sense of the board that this money should be used in the apportionment of different funds, instead of lying in the banks, and the District Attorney was instructed to look into the matter and see what could be done in the way of making use of this money. The report was ordered filed.

Martha Neugebauer of South San Francisco was granted $8 monthly from the Indigent fund, on motion of Casey, seconded by MacBain.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

The Palo Alto Citizen, owned by J.F. Parkinson, has been sold to Mr. Russel of Modesto. The new editor will give his entire attention to the paper and make every effort to make it one of the best weeklies published on the Peninsula, and one that will meet the demands of the people of Palo Alto.

ACT FOR THE PRESENT.

That Redwood City is destioned to become an important manfacturing center, no one acquainted with its situation can question. Easily and conveniently accessible to both rail and watsr communication with the outside world, with a vast area of lands admirably situated for factory sites, only awaiting the completion of development, this result is inevitable. Unquestionably the time is near at hand when our development will be largely along these lines. This, however, is a condition which, to a large extent at least, concerns the future.

For the present, Redwood City and its environments is essentially a resident section, and its development must be treated along these lines. Whatever of immediate growth the city makes must of necessity be because of its attractiveness to the home seeker and it is along these lines that we must work.

If we are to create a favorable impression upon the visitor seeking pleasant surrounding amidst which to make his home, the entire city must be made, outwardly at least, attractive. Not alone must there be smooth and pleasant streets upon which to drive, but these must be bordered by neat and attractive homes. This means far more than handsome houses, for the most humble cottage can be made a pleasing spectacle to the cultivated eye. Just as an otherwise attractive mansion may become an object of disgust if its surroundings are neglected and allowed to become the depository of refuse and filth, so can the most modest home be made an object of admiration if its surroundings are those of neatness and order.

These are questions which should receive especial consideration at this time. During the coming month, and especially at the time of the Floral Festival, it is hoped to attract to the city large numbers of the class of visitors among whom we must look for the desired home builders. When these do come, it must be expected that these conditions will be the subject of critical inspection.

It is important, therefore, that we should put the best foot forward; that every reasonable effort be made to present the most attractive appearance. Not alone must our yards be neat and clean, but the streets and sidewalks upon which they front must show an evidence, indicative of sloth and neglect.

That these objects may be best attained, there should be united and systematic action. An opertunity for this is offered in the season of general cleaning up designated by the city council—the 23rd, 24th and 26th of the present month. General direction of work has been authoritively placed under the direction of Trustee Deleau. In the work mapped up for him, he should receive the hearty cooperation, not only of the individual citizen, but of every organized civic body. With this the labor to the individual will be far from arduous, while the expense will be practically nothing. This is certainly an opportunity for civic improvement we cannot afford to allow to pass.

Holds Deed Absolute.

The civil suit entitled Alfred B. Johnson against F. W. Johnson and others was decided in a lengthy opinion rendered recently in favor of plaintiff by Judge Beasley of San Jose. Mrs Catherine Johnson owned a parcel of land with improvements at Atherton worth about $10,000. Prior to her death she deeded the property to her son Alfred, holding a life interest in the realty. The other children of the deceased contended that Alfred Johnson only held the land in trust for the other heirs. Over a year ago one of the sons took possession of the home and at once Alfred Johnson brought suit to oust him. Judge Beasley in his long and exhaustive decision held that the title of the property was vested in plaintiff, that Mrs. Johnson did not intend that it should be held in turst by him. The court also gave a judgment in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $375 for rent at the rate of $50 a month, during the time defendant held the property and for costs amounting to $19.

Sisters Pay Surprise Visit

Mrs. C. H. Stevens had a most enjoyable surprise Sunday when her two sisters came to her for a visit. They are Mrs. E. Hall, wife of a prominent St. Louis physician and Miss Katie Geselbracht of Chicago. They have visited the points of interest around Redwood City and have also been to the Exposition and aare harmed with California. They will remain with Mrs. Stevens for three weeks.

The program at the Bell Theater for next Tuesday evening will be unusually attractive, the leading feature being the presentation of Jack London's strong drama of the early Klondike days, "Burning Daylight." Another strong program will be that of next Saturday evening, when the Broadway star, Henrietta Crossman, will be featured in "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch." While these are special attractions, there will be particularly good programs for every evening next week.

IMPORTANT STREE IMPROVING PROJECT

Main and Bradford Street Property Owners Ask Council for Permit to Pave.

That the campaign for better streets in Redwod City, which has been industriously waged by the trustees for the past two years has the hearty endorsement of the most substantial business men of the city was made practically evident at the meeting of the city council Monday evening, when it was announced that voluntary steps for the permanent improvement of one of the most important thoroughfares in the city were to be immediately undertaken. This announcement came in the form of a petition asking for permission of the council for the construction of concrete curbs and sidewalks and modern street paving on that portion of Main street extending from the present asphalt pavement northerly to Bradford street and a similar improvement on Bradford street from Main to Washington street. This petition, which represents the ownership of all but a small portion of the property frontage, was signed by P. P. Chamberlain, E. H. Sampson, the Tacoma Mill Co., A. Genochio and the Peninsula Dock & Warehouse Company. In explanation of the designs of the petitioners, Trustee Sampson, who is one of the signers of the petition, stated that it was recognized by the owners of the property that these streets were even now required to bear a havy portion of the business traffic of the city and that their improvement should be of the most substantial and modern character. While it was desired that the pavements of the streets should be of the best reasonably obtainable, it was designed that its character should be such as would meet with the entire approval of the turstees. While there was no desire upon the part of those interested to dictate the class of pavement to be used, it was suggested that probably the most satisfactory street could be constructed on a concrete base of sufficient thickness to bear the weight of heavy traffic, covered with a wearing surface of what is known as "Topeka macadam." This suggestion evidently met with the approval of the council, as directions were given City Engineer Sears to prepare plans and specifications suitable for work of this character. That the trustees generally recognized the advantage to the public of the improvements proposed was also made evident by the fact that steps were also taken to require the co-operation of the owners of the property frontage not represented in the petition either by voluntarily joining in the movement to have the work done by private contract or submitting to compulsion under the requirements of the general street improvement law, which will prove a much more expensive method.

COUNCIL FAVORS MODERN FIRE FIGHTING METHODS

Prepares to Submit Question of Bond Issue to Voters of City.

Although there was a full board of trustees present at the regular session of the city council last Monday night and the session was continued until a rather late hour, but little in the way of general business was disposed of. Several matters of public interest however, were given extended discussion, chief among which was the imperative need of more modern appliance for the us of the fire department, the necessity for which had been given added emphasis by the experiences of the past two months. As the result of this discussion it was determined that in the near future the question of the issuance of bonds for this purpose should be again submitted to the voters of the city in the immediate future. In order to secure data upon which to base intelligent action, Chief Winter of the fire department was requested to submit at the next meeting designs of approved auto chemical apparatus with estimates of the cost.

A petition was presented from the Typographical Union requesting that an order be made directing that the union label be required on all city printing. On motion of Trustee Deleau, seconded by Trustee Tuchsen, the request was granted.

Charging continual violations of the city ordinance regulating the conduct of saloons and the sale of liquor to minors and those on the prohibited list, a petition bearing the signatures of somewhat more than thirty citizens was presented requesting the revocation of the saloon license of P. Demartini. Seemingly because of a lack of specific allegations, the petition was, on motion of Turstee Sampson, chairman of the police committee, placed on file pending investigation.

Although given a week's time in which to consider the matter, none of the owners of property in Wellesley Park appeared to voice objections to the plans for the extension of Oaklade street and the formation of an assessment district upon which the cost of the work is to be levied. The absence of objectors apparently was considered as clearing the way for action and the resolution of intention to order the extension, previously prepared by City Attorney Mansfield, was read and adopted.

An ordinance intended to require the removal of weeds from sidewalks was presented by City Attorney Mansfield and given its introductory reading. Under the provisions of the ordinance, failure to remove weeds as required will be made a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment.

The ordinances introduced at the last meeting ordering the closing of Bartlett avenue and the alleyways in lots A and B of the Reese subdivision were given their final reading and adopted.

While considerable time was devoted to a discussion of the request of the Redwood City Band for a donation from the city in aid of a series of summer evening concerts, no decided action was taken. The failure of the trustees to make the desired provision evidently was not because of a lack of appreciation of the benefits to be derived from the proposed concerts, but because of an inability on the part of the representatives of the band to promise the expected cooperation in the musical entertainment which it is intended shall be a part of the Floral Festival to be held next month.

City Attorney Mansfield presented an agreement prepared by him looking to the carrying out of the agreement by which the city is to acquire from C. A. Hooper & Co., and the Moxey Realty Co., the land necessary for the widening of Vera avenue. The agreement was approved and placed on file and as a preliminary to the carrying out o the city's portion of the contract, a resolution declaring the intention to vacate Monroe street from Fulton street to County road was adopted.

An adjournment was then taken until the date of the next regular meeting.

Raymond Maloney, the young son of Police Officer T. P. Maloney of San Francisco, who with his mother has been visiting his grand parents for the past week, met with a painful accident Wednesday evening. He with several others were playing on the highway in front of the Maloney livery stable when an automobile rushed by and struck the little fellow. He was shaken up severely and bruised about the head and shoulders but his injuries are not considered serious. The boy left for his homeyesterday.

"Billy" is dead. He has gone to the happy hunting grounds where all good dogs go. Old age and infirmities caused disease which compelled his kind master, E. J. Crane, to chloroform him Tuesday. Poor Billie's bark was worse than his bite. Anyone passing the Crane residence would be startled by the fuss he would make but that was all there was to it, for Billy would harm no one. He was found on the roadside near San Mateo fifteen years ago by Mr. Crane who brought the little orphan home and tenderly raised him. Billy was a favorite and his passing has brought forth expressions of sympathy from every quatrer.

The board of Supervisors paid Harry B. Morey, the contractor, a deserved compliment at its meeting last Monday. When bids were opened for estimates on the retaining wall on the Woodside road, it was found that Mr. Morey's bid was nearly $200 more than the lowest bidder. The board at once awarded him the contract, knowing that the work would be well done. No inspector is ever placed on any of he work done by Mr. Morey and as one would have to be put in charge of the other contractor's work, the supervisors figured that the county wuold save money by giving the contract to Mr. Morey. As the inspector would receive $[illegible] a day and it would take 60 days to complete the contract, the county is therefore the gainer by $100 and besides it will receive a first class job. After all it pays to be honest and Mr. Morey's work is always done honestly and strictly according to contract.

George Nickel, son of J. Le Roy Nickel of this place, and Miss Ernestine McNear, the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. McNear, were married Tuesday morning at St. Luke's Episcopal church in San Francisco. The wedding was the first big social event after the Lenten season and society from both sides of the bay was there in large numbers. Bishop William Ford Nichols officiated at the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Edward Morgan. Miss Einnem McNear, sister of the bride, was the principal attendant. George Bowles was best man. After the ceremony there was a brilliant reception at the Fairmont hotel, followed by a wedding breakfast.

MIDNIGHT MARRIAGE LICENSE REVEALS ROMANTIC STORY

Little Cupid in the County Clerk's office issued a marriage license to Hugh Shiels and Agnes G. Aitken at Midnight on Wednesday. There was no reason that they should secure a license at such a late hour for both live far from home and friends. The pair was married at San Mateo last evening. The marriage is the culmination of a very pretty romance which had its beginning in bonny Scotland a number of years ago, when both young people were class mates in a village school. Some years ago Shiels left for the United States to win Fortune's smile, intending to return to his native land to claim his bride. Having gained a competency he intended to return last year to marry the girl of his choice, but the war broke out and Shiels thought it unwise to cross the waters during the thoublesome times in Europe. The bonny lassie, however, would not have it thus, so she made arrangements and started on the long journey over land and sea, to meet her lover. She secured quarters on a trans-Atlantic steamer. The good ship had only started on its journey when it was overtaken by a German submarine, and attacked, and fired several shots at the outgoing vessel. The passengers were terror stricken. A commotion ensued on board, and the pretty young bride-to-be thought she would never see her loved one again. However, a great British dreadnaught appeared in sight and drove off the German intruder. The vessel finally landed in New York in safety, and Miss Aitken traveled from Gotham over the continent, arriving in San Francisco last week. The couple was happily married last evening at San Mateo where the groom has a host of friends. Mr. Shiels is the chief gardener for McRorie, McLaren & Co., and assisted in laying out the Exposition grounds, and planting many of the beautiful floral beds that attract sight seers at the great Exposition.

MANY FRIENDS PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO MRS. THOS. HIND

The services at the Congregational church Tuesday afternoon over the remains of Mrs. Louise Hind were very impressive and witnessed by large number of friends of the deceased woman who they had loved in life and honored her in death. Rev. Stevens delivered a splendid eulogy, eloquently telling of the good life and splendid character of the deceased, showing how Mrs. Hind had lived for others doing good and making many sacrifices. She loved her husband children and had devoted her life to them. Her one thought was that her boy and girl might live honorable lives and become respected citizens of the county. Mr. Stevens told of her unostentatious charity and spoke feelingly of Mrs. Hind's interest in the Sunday school work of the church while she was a teacher. Mr. Stevens closed his tribute by urging the young people to emulate the life of this noble woman. After the services the remains were followed by a large number of friends to Union cemetery where the interment took place. The pall bearers were L. P. Behrens, C. N. Kirkbride, William Lipp, Sr., Lee Pipkin, Judge Buck and Mr. Parkinson, all old friends of the deceased. Mrs. Hind passed away in San Francisco after a brief illness.

Mrs. Hind before her marriage was Miss Louise Meering. She was born in Cacheville, Yola county, and was one of the well-known Meering family of that place. She is survived by her husband and two children, Alice and Thomas Hind, besides two brothers and two sisters. One of her brothers is Edward Meering, a well-known attorney of San Francisco.

Mr. Borel in the will makes provisions for Mrs. Borel to have the income of the community property paid to her, but but if she wants the half of the property instead of the income she will not be bound by the terms of the will. MAIN STREET FIRE LOSSES ARE PROMPTLY ADJUSTED

Nearly all the losses caused by the fire in the Dan Mullen building early Monday morning, have been adjusted by the several insurance companies. Edwin B. Fox, agent for the Queen Insurance Co. of this city, has paid Mr. Mullen the sum of $450 for the loss of the building occupied by the confectionery store and Miss Lovie, agent for the Commercial Union, has settled with Mr. Mullen for the small loss caused by the flame on the harness shop. A. Pieredies, who conducted the candy store, was insured in the Hanover Insurance Company for $600. He is experiencing some difficulty in securing his money. An adjuster is busy on the case. It is believed he will not receive the full amount of his policy, the company holding that the stock of goods in the store had been greatly depleted since the policy was written. Mr. Mullen desires to thank the chief of the fire department and his able assistants and all those assisting in putting out the blaze. It is thought the fire was started from a hot stove at the rear of the building.
